Notes from the Director:

The Arbor Pointe Foundation is currently reviewing scholarship applications for the 2026 academic year. For those unfamiliar, the Foundation's mission is to enhance the quality of life for Arbor Pointe Management employees by offering financial assistance for education and times of financial hardship. This is made possible through the generosity of our residents, their families, and friends. Many of you likely contribute to charitable organizations, and for some, these contributions play an important role in annual tax planning. As you prepare for tax season, please consider supporting the Foundation in its efforts to enrich the lives of our employees.

The Arbor Pointe Foundation will host its fourth annual Gala on April 15th. Since its founding in 2015, the Foundation has provided over $456,676 in scholarships and hardships to its employees. We look forward to another great event and year of giving back!

Lastly, I'd like to emphasize the importance of using Arbor Trace Realty when buying or selling property. When your fellow residents and predecessors purchased the Clubhouse from the developers, they invested in everyone's future. Each owner has a stake in Tower Trace, and one way to reduce maintenance costs for the 36,000-square-foot Clubhouse is by using our in-house Realty office. Commissions earned after operating costs go directly back into our community. With rising expenses, it's more important than ever. If you decide to sell your condo, using Arbor Trace Realty benefits the community by keeping commissions here, which helps maintain and beautify Arbor Trace and Tower Pointe. Using an outside Realtor means losing that commission, which could be reinvested in the community. Please share with your family—using Arbor Trace Realty is a great way to pay it forward!

Sincerely,

Jennifer Whitten
Executive Director

In Remembrance:

Richard Jackson

Meet Cheryl Moore

Cheryl grew up in Indianapolis, Indiana and spent the first part of her life there. After high school during the Vietnam era, she worked for a government paymaster office seeing that service men and women were paid. Later she moved to a TWIX office solving problems for those in the service whether it was an accident, a problem, or something minor. Workers were there to help the service men and women.
While at home Cheryl helped her dad, who was a dog breeder, with the dogs often beagles in kennels in their back yard. When she was born, he had 43 dogs but reduced the number as his family responsibilities grew. Her memories of working with him include a birth when the mother got out of the kennel and had her litter outside. Chery's job was to carry the wet newbies back into the kennel with their mom. A favorite memory is of lying back in the grass and having her face licked by a litter of puppies. Cheryl would often accompany her dad to dog shows where he showed his best dogs. Before he retired, one of his English Bulldogs was named a grand champion and retired with him for a life of ease.
Cheryl married, had two children, and served as a Scout leader for a group of Bluebirds. And of course, the family always had a dog, often a basset hound, with its sad face and long ears her favorite breed or a shih-tzu. After a divorce she met and married Jim who had two children. They enjoyed fishing together on various lakes in Indiana catching blue gills, bass, and crappies. For their last forty years together, they had a second home in Florida when Cheryl enjoyed taking painting classes. Her last home was at Heritage Bay, Naples.
Cheryl came to Arbor Trace because of a casual conversation with a stranger in the lobby of a doctor's office. A man mentioned that he and his wife lived at Arbor Trace, a senior community and liked it. At the time Cheryl was thinking about her next move. She checked out our community and moved in last November. When I asked what she likes about being here, Cheryl said "what is there not to like. I like everything about it, the people who are so welcoming, the place which is kept so pristine, the food, and the wonderful view. "Recovering from hip replacement surgery, Cheryl is beginning to check out our activities such as chair yoga and really likes the Women's Coffee discussions. "They are wonderful."
Welcome Cheryl to your new home.
